VARIOUS GREEN CAMPUS INITIATIVES

Session on Sustainable Gastronomy

Cooking consumes water in large quantities. Much of the water is also wasted during the process. The college organized sustainable gastronomy workshops to make culinary aspirants understand the relevance of sustainable gastronomy. Water Waste, food security, agricultural development, and biodiversity conservation are all aided by sustainable gastronomy. It also helps save money, and resources, as well as fosters strong supply chains while reducing water waste.

Beach Clean Up Drive

Annual organization of beach clean-up drives by the college sees an enthusiastic participation of students. Beach clean-ups also provide students with an opportunity to learn about the present state of the beach, and current pollution trends and develop a conscious approach towards the relevance of beach hygiene.
